

Panel: Different Scenarios After the Colombian Conflict

Date: October 7, 2016

Time: 15:00 to 17:00

Place: Pufendorf Institute, Biskopsgatan 3, Lund

Colombia recently signed a peace agreement with the guerrilla FARC (Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia). While there is hope about the possibility to end one of the oldest armed conflicts in the world, there is uncertainty about the different scenarios that can emerge after this peace agreement. In this panel, our invited experts we will present optimist, realist and pessimist scenarios in the post-conflict of Colombia and their implications for the following issues:

1. Demobilization and Reintegration of Ex-combatants
2. Protection of Human Rights Activists and Union Leaders
3. Security
4. The Environment

Then we will have an open discussion with questions from the participants.

Invited Panelists:

- Jairo Munive Rincon, Senior Researcher, Peace, Risk and Violence Unit at the Danish Institute for International Studies (DIIS)
- Marie Hagensen, Colombia Solidaritet Denmark
- Nubia Evertsson, Post-doc at the Institute of Latin American Studies, Stockholm University
- Torsten Krause, Coordinator of the Advance Study Group (ASG) The Nature of Peace, at Pufendorf Institute and Assistant Professor at Lund University Centre for Sustainability Science
